This notice is to keep our associates informed of South Coast Improvement Company's status and goals as our nation strives to best manage the COVID-19 Virus.

We are grateful to our clients who have been able to keep their current jobs open for entrusting us to proceed with the utmost of vigilance. As such, we continue to move forward while practicing an abundance of caution on multiple fronts. We have been making adjustments to keep our staff healthy, our current projects safe and to keep the business strong, viable and ready to roll on future projects in this new climate.

Jobsites are following stringent infectious disease protocol. Furthermore, as our staff practices social distancing and remote work scenarios, we have ample electronic means in place and are able to keep projects moving forward, provide detailed proposals and start new projects to the extent our partners are working in a similar fashion.
